In Miami

Here's a class that I went to, for a week of splendid desserts with world renowned pastry chef Antonio Bachour

The class was organized by the Valrhona school of Brooklyn, but took place at Bachour's school in Miami

I really loved this class, as I was a big fan of Antonio Bachour, learning with him was super exciting I have always been a big fan of his pastries, which are French inspired, but modernized with an elegant look and I find them really beautiful
